Your Shropshire

The county of Shropshire is one of Britain's undiscovered gems, nestled between the West Midlands and the Welsh border. It offers spectacular scenery, from rolling hills and ancient woodland to open moorland, rivers and valleys, alongside historic towns, picturesque villages and a relaxed pace of life that make it the perfect place to spend a few days.

At the heart of the county is Shrewsbury, one of England's best-preserved historic market towns. Rich in history and character, it offers a unique blend of independent shops, welcoming cafés, restaurants, traditional pubs and beautiful open spaces, making it an ideal place to spend time before, during or after the rally.

Shrewsbury will also be the central hub for many competitors, officials and teams throughout the Hills Ford Stages Rally. Whether you need last-minute supplies, camping equipment, groceries or specialist retailers, you'll find everything you need close at hand during your stay.

Encircled by the River Severn, Shrewsbury is a wonderful town to explore on foot. The riverside walks, parks and gardens provide a welcome opportunity to relax, while the award-winning Quarry Park is well worth a visit.

The town has Anglo-Saxon roots dating back to the eighth century and retains a largely undisturbed medieval street plan. More than 660 listed buildings, including many timber-framed properties from the 15th and 16th centuries, help create its unique character. Shrewsbury Castle and Shrewsbury Abbey have stood for over a thousand years, while the town is also celebrated as the birthplace of Charles Darwin.

As the Hills Ford Stages begins an exciting new chapter in Shropshire, we're proud to help showcase everything this remarkable county has to offer. We hope that many visitors who discover Shropshire through the rally will return again to explore even more of its towns, countryside and attractions.

Beyond Shrewsbury, the county offers an abundance of places to discover. Historic towns such as Ludlow, Church Stretton, Bishop's Castle and Bridgnorth each have their own unique character.

Church Stretton is a perfect base for exploring the Long Mynd, with its network of walking trails, tumbling streams, open moorland and abundant wildlife. Curlews, hen harriers and ring ouzels can all be found here, alongside the wild ponies that roam freely across the hills. From the summit, the views stretch across Shropshire and deep into Wales.

During your stay, we encourage you to enjoy the warm welcome offered by Shropshire's hotels, guest houses, camp-sites, cafés, pubs, restaurants and independent businesses. Every visit helps support the communities that are hosting the Hills Ford Stages Rally and contributes to the positive relationship between the event and the county.

We hope you enjoy everything Shropshire has to offer and leave already planning your next visit.

GETTING HERE

Shrewsbury is well connected by both road and rail. The town is served by regular train services from across the UK, while the M54, A5 and A49 provide excellent road links, placing the town within easy reach from all directions.
